

Advice

---

Whatever your storage requirement Constructor has seen it before. From our long standing position as industry leaders in the provision of storage equipment across a broad range of industries and applications our experienced and knowledgeable sales people, engineers and project managers can provide a valuable insight into solving our customer's storage requirements whatever they are.

Drawing on this considerable experience we can help and advise our customers on not only their storage requirements but the activities and facilities around the storage equipment itself. This can cover a wide range of areas such as;

- Warehouse layout
- Material handling equipment
- Location labeling
- Material flow
- Picking methods
- Sprinkler systems
- Etc.

Access to this knowledge and experience is part of the package when you work with Constructor.